Turquoise Blue Recordings was founded with a simple aim: releasing house music that is deep, sometimes dark but always groovy and underground. It is therefore no surprise the label is now releasing an EP by Finnish born producer, Phonogenic.

With previous releases on 20:20 Vision, Turbo, Moodmusic and others, Tuomas Salmela aka Phonogenic has spent most of his recent time in the studio where he is preparing his forthcoming album. Despite this, he did find time to capture the true essence of Turquoise Blue with this brand new EP, bringing us three originals and a collaborative remix from Canadian producers The Mole and Hreno.

The EP will be released as a limited edition 180g baby blue coloured vinyl with a full colour sleeve on reverse board.

Mastered, cut and pressed via Curved Pressings London.
