

KITTIN

Cosmos

Who are we, why are we here and where are we going?

Metaphysics - Quantum Physics - Science - Philosophy - Spirituality - Art - Poetry - Existential questions.

Everything is energy

Back to the core.

Curiosity. Freedom.

Free of pop and dance floor diktats: no chorus no verse no 4/4 beats.

Just chords, organic atmospheres and textures.

A research on the sound reflecting soul and mind, art and science.

Voice as an instrument like any other.

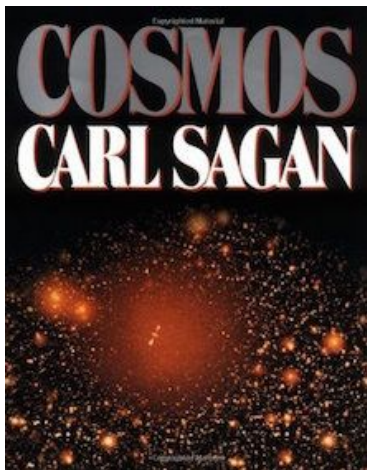

A continuous soundtrack with no break no silence.

An odyssey.

An ode to the most classical form of electronic music that is Electronica, Ambient, IDM (Intelligent Dance Music) and its heroes.

CARL SAGAN - Cosmos

The book that obsessed me as a kid.

NEIL DeGRASSE TYSON - Cosmos serie on National Geographic Carl Sagan's student and disciple.

1. COSMIC ADDRESS

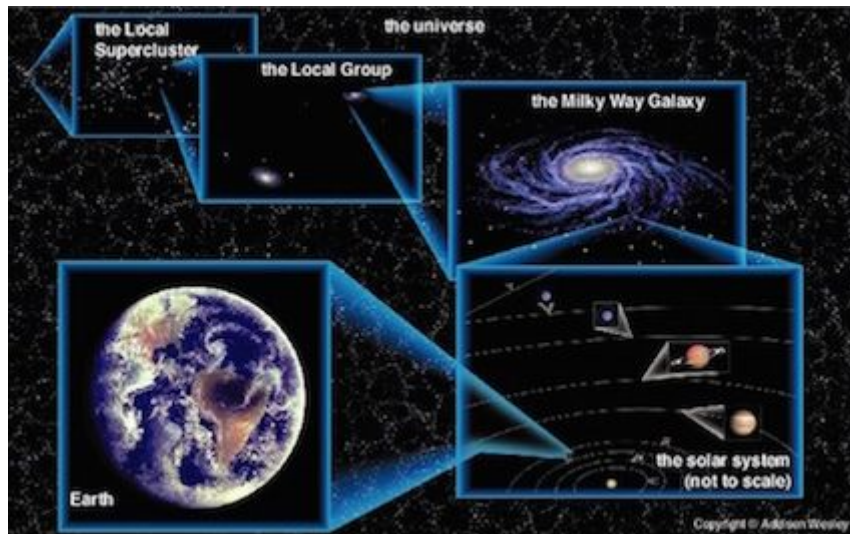

When you find your place, your space, in this life, simply where you belong.

Home. Roots. Starting and arrival point of the Journey.

Literally our postal address and country code:

Earth, Solar System, Orion arm, Milky Way, Local Group, Virgo supercluster, Laniakea, Universe, Multiverse.

2. ARE YOU THERE?

A song for the Aliens. For the other intelligence life form out there, because without a doubt, why would we be alone.

Will you give us a sign when it's too late?

Save us all from ourselves?

Being probably too primitives to get an answer.

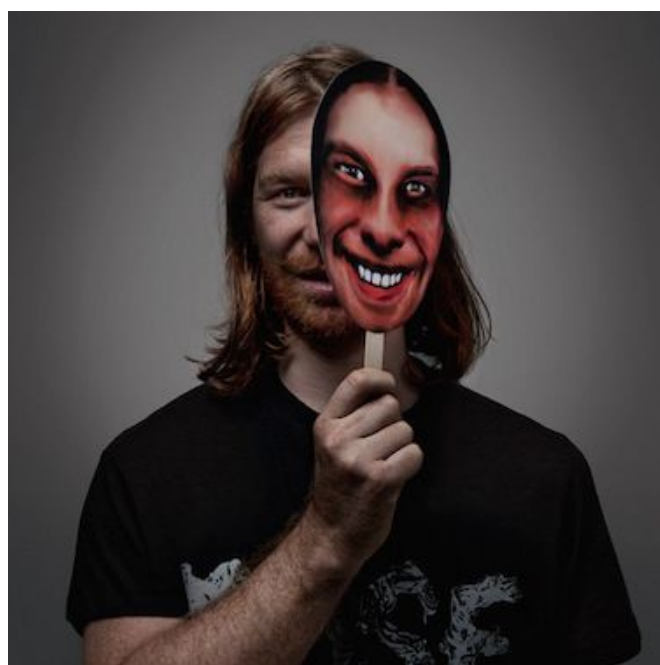

3. QUESTION EVERYTHING

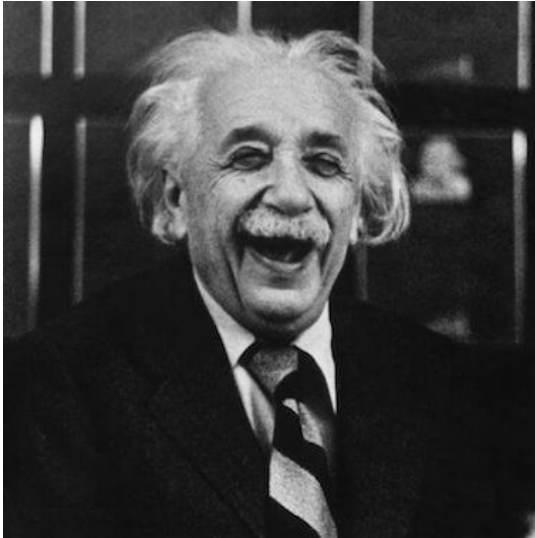

Artists and scientists eternal vision quest through introspection and open mind.

Evolution, curiosity as a constructive counter force to doubt.

Aphex Twin and Einstein meeting.

« It surprises me how disinterested we are about physics, space, the universe and philosophy of our existence, our purpose, our final destination. It's a crazy world out there. Be curious. » Stephen Hawking

4. ELEVATE

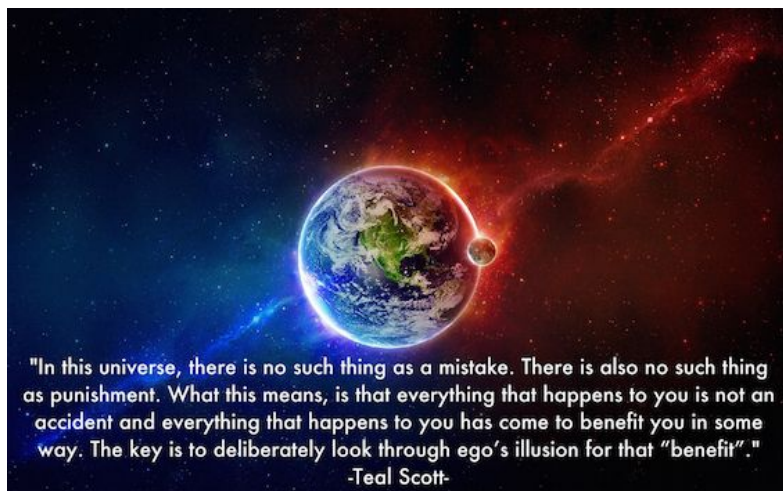

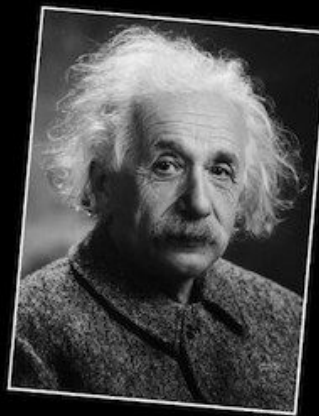

Elevate ourselves as Human Kind.

Humanism. Resilience. Obstination. Ethic. Consciousness. Goodwill. Gratitude.

The Big Picture.

Positive thinking and eternal optimism.

Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think.
~Albert Einstein

5. ATOMS

Everything is Energy. Perpetual chemical reactions. Explosion, expansion, multiplication. Life and Death.

The infinitely small to the infinitely big to understand who we are.
Each cell, living creature, is a universe in the universe, in the multiverse.
And it's quite a miracle.

So remember to look up at the stars and not down at your feet. Try to make sense of what you see and hold on to that childlike wonder about what makes the universe exist.

— Stephen Hawking —

6. MULTIVERSE

Looking at the sky, the Milky Way, the endless number of universes: Multiverse.
Counting selected astral corps from the smallest to the largest known, at a vertiginous scale.

How small we are, how precious is our world.
The need to understand mysteries to know ourselves.

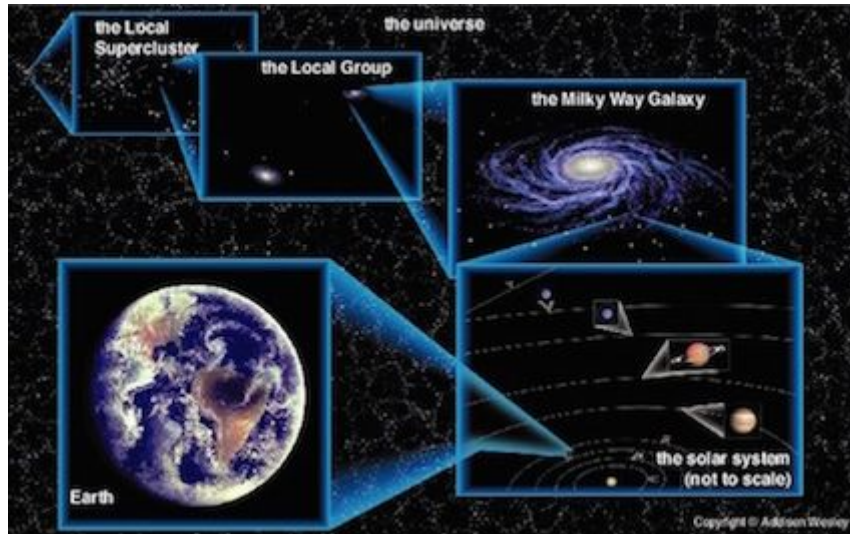

7. LAST DAY ON EARTH

After observing, ready to take off.
What would you do for your last day if you had to leave Earth forever?

8. DEEP SPACE STATION

The future space station for Deep Space explorations.
Next destination being Mars.

9. SCANNER

Away from home.

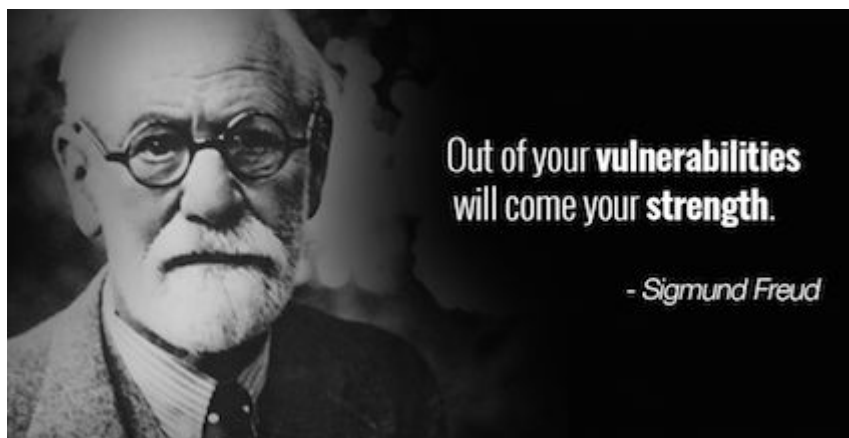

Are we brave enough to face ourselves, as we are?

Who are we?

How far do we have to go, inside and out?

The fine line between opening the heart and protecting ourselves.

We reflect on this journey we may never return from, the past, the pain, in order to forgive and move on.

Out of your vulnerabilities will come your strength.

- Sigmund Freud

10. #METOO

You finally find yourself, know yourself. You've gone beyond your fears, your own limitations. You have learnt self respect, self confidence, you have the power to say NO.

A major life achievement, as the hardest thing to do. For many women, who never had the right to express themselves and still can't today.

The Present.

11. WHITE MAGIC

What will be left?

Our actions. Not our words.

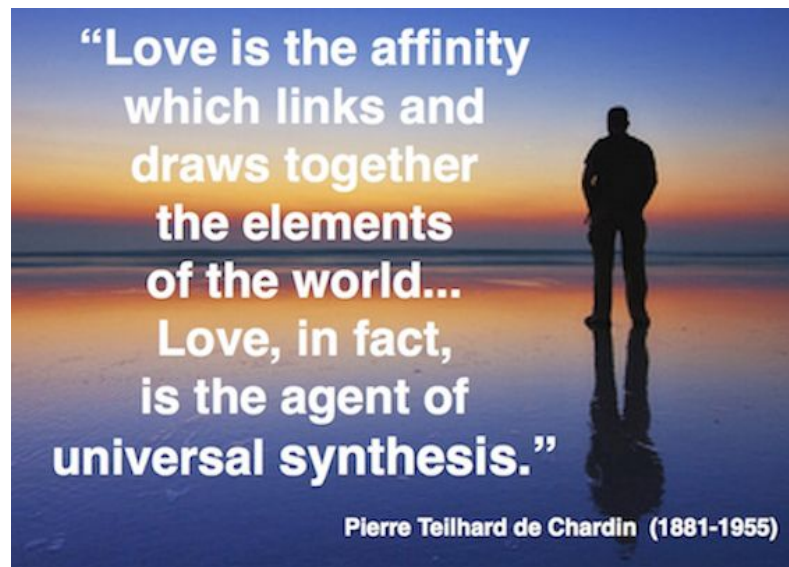

Goodwill. Being good. Doing good. Love. The strongest power, the meaning of life.

Spiritual pagan culture killed by the modern world.

Since the beginning of times they looked up to the sky, stars, spirits, ancestors for guidance.

White magic as healing.

12. UTOPIA

Back home or lost in space, wherever you are, you are fulfilled.
You can die now.
