

HVOB: new album, new single, concert tour

The new album by the duo HVOB is a lesson in how versatile and creative electronic music can be. Listen to the first single "2nd World" here.

Producer duo HVOB have enjoyed a spectacular 18 months: the success of their album "Silk" was followed by sell-out tours of America, Australia, Africa, Asia and Europe, gigs at Burning Man and Fuji Rock Japan, as well as headline appearances at Sonar in Barcelona, Cloackenflap in Hong Kong and the Fusion Festival.

I. New single and new album

The release date of HVOB's new album 'Rocco' is moving closer (March 2019), now the electronica duo shortens the wait with a new track: '2nd World' drops on November 27. The song is the precursor to HVOB's fourth album, both the single and album will be released on PIAS Records.

II. Concert Tour

After a nearly sold out club tour this autumn and when their fourth album – which will once again feature the full HVOB sound – is released in March 2019, HVOB will then return to the big international concert stage: the electronic duo will then tour North and South America, Australia, Africa, Asia and Europe.

III. On HVOB

HVOB are Anna Müller and Paul Wallner. Within the last years, HVOB have not only established themselves within the international music scene by way of their releases, but also as a live-act. The duo strictly plays live.
